Dedication

For their patient guidance and understanding, their constant interest and devotion, we, the Class of 1961, would like to dedicate this edition of the "Purple and Gold" to all of our parents and teachers. Throughout our school years they have contributed greatly toward the happiness and sense of attainment we have had at St. J. H. S., and it is with utmost sincerity that we thank them.

Class History

It was a cool, crisp September day in 1948 when we, the future class of '61, entered kindergarten en masse and started a series of surprises to the teachers that would continue throughout our school years.

Our grammar school days sped by rapidly and once again we found ourselves green, young underclassmen. Eventually, even that passed, and as we climbed up through the grades we had P. A. dances, picnics, and numerous activities, all of which proved to be a ball. Before we even knew it we were Juniors and our long-awaited class rings had arrived. We shared the fun and work of decorating for the Prom and then the Junior girls entertained the Senior girls at the traditional Senior Tea.

Vacation seemed almost non-existent, and we again returned to school, now as the mighty Seniors. We dashed headlong into our Senior activities and found that the football game that we attended at Syracuse was the most fun we'd ever had. Our Senior Play, "House for Sale-Haunted," went into production and had everyone holding his sides from laughter. All too soon we found that this last year had come to an end, and as we proudly walked up to get our diplomas at Commencement, our suddenly saddened hearts were filled with many happy memories.

at the basketball games, dances, movies and most of all I'll never forget the Prom! (who could) I just hope we can be together for another year. I've had a lot of fun with you even though I'm not in school. I know next year you'll have even more fun and I don't think its going to be all with me.
Best of luck to my favorite girl.

"What are you all squawkin' at me about?"

By

Jay Tobias

Miss Oletha Lenhart, spinster, is collecting true ghost stories for a book she is writing on psychical phenomena. She visits the Haunted House one wild stormy night with the object of buying it because of its alleged ghosts. She is accompanied by Edwina, her niece, Liz, her hired girl, and Zeke, her Negro gardener. Also in the party are Gracie, Edwina's friend, and Tug Ralston, a newcomer from the city, with whom both girls are infatuated.

Next, the two girls' jealous boyfriends arrive, Hi Lowe and Snorky Snodgrass. Then all sorts of weird characters from a nearby carnival start dropping in--Zara, the Gypsy fortune teller, Serpentina, the snake charmer, and Jojo, the tatooed man.

Martha Gilpepper, the housekeeper, has a criminal son Butch Killigrew and when the haunting is finally proved to be only the high school youngsters dressed up as all the ghosts to get even with Tug's stuck-up manners, Butch appears to almost upset everything. But he is apprehended by Sheriff Lem Looney and the high school boys, and all comes to a very happy ending.

"Is you defuncted white boy, or is ain't you?"

"Better start sayin' your prayers, you blabbermouthed old witch."

"Come on you unearthly white things--float together."

Pamie -

Best of everything to the greatest girl in the junior Class. Remember the good times we had out to camp and the times we slept on my floor. I'll always remember the time we stuffed those books into an empty room!

We have had fun this year and I hope you do too!

Best year keep your eye on Ronnie (not that it will do any good!) I'm really going to miss you, Pam. Don't forget that you're coming up to Syracuse to see me + stay. Be good, Pam, and have all your fun while you can. you'll always be a great friend to me. God Bless you always, Pam.

Penny:

It took me awhile to find a page and now that I have it I don't know what to say. Everybody starts with "best of luck" so I can say that. This is a special best of luck cause it's for you. I'm not going to say something like hang on to Paul either because I know you will (that's if you like like the way you're living it.)

Remember some of the crazy things we've done this year? Especially your P.J. party & Pete's & Lorraine's. Last summer and Carter & Paul & Dee & Gail & ourselves. Wait until this summer. I have a feeling we're going to be loafing around again too! So be prepared.

Nights I can't seem to get much homework done, of course I can't imagine why. We'll be in summer school together.

I'll lots of luck again because you deserve it. Hang on to him, no bidding.

Don't ever forget the fun we had in church choir, among other things. Like one of Paul's swell gag. Remember that day when we by what a ball. And the night of the basketball game when you & I went down there and didn't come back until the game was over with. Just think next year we'll have the senior party, class night & finally graduation boy will coming too fast. Just think only one year to go and then what do we do? Remember that rainbow birthday party when you went with —. And I talked to Paul. That kid is probably still the same as you are & you'll be the swimming champ or a coke. I don't know what got that night of the summer. Remember I'll see you around.

to one of the nicest girls I know. We've had a lot of fun this year.
Start can't wait until next summer. Seeing you'll have a ball. I'd imagine you'll have quite a time trying to teach me
the cheers
With best luck always Always

Pam

Best of luck to the cutest and sweetest girl in our class. Don't forget our P.J. parties and all the fun we had. I don't think the girls will ever forget the pizza we used to make, it was pretty good but it would have been better if it was cooked all the way through. I know you won't forget the nite at Bets house when you and Paul first got to-gether. Boy now that you've got your claws in him never let him leave you and only you could understand a jerk like him. I wish you the best of luck in keeping Paul under control because you're going to need it. Be good to your nose and his feet and you'll go far
